SCENE—Democratic Headquarters. The dullness and desolation shows that it is under the control of General Apathy, who has been placed in command by the governing committee, consisting of Messrs. Prohibition, County Government, Bourbonism, Democratic inconsistency and broken promises, social ostracism and business prescription.

Vance and Bennett in a confidential chat:

Bennett—Look here, Price gave me thunder down below the other day.

Vance—Why, you didn't let him catch you, did you? You bet he never catches me. When he is in the east I am in the west; when he is in the west I am in the east.

Bennett—Say, Vance, you know how Price gets after the Democratic party for taking up Greeley. How he says there was no bond of sympathy between Greeley and the Democratic party except that Greeley wanted office and so did the Democratic party and how Price says that when they charge Liberals with deserting the Democratic party they ought to recollect how their party deserted every Democratic principle in making Greeley their standard bearer, a man who as you and I know was utterly antagonistic to every principle of the Democratic party as Price says. Price says then the Democratic party deserted all their principles.

Now, say Vance, that is a pretty hard hit, and the devil of it is, its true. Now how is thunder would you get around that?

Vance—Well, you know I used to tell the boys a joke about the Democratic party being in the ditch, and did not care whether it was a Democratic horse or a Republican jackass that pulled them out. But somehow the people have got tired of jokes, and want to hear some reason and argument; one day an infernal cuss in the crowd asked me that in case the Republican jackass pulled the Democratic party out of the ditch, wouldn't it have been the braying of the jackass that the Democratic party would have had, and not the neighing of a Democratic horse. Well knowing that old Greeley was a man of strong prejudices and iron will, who surrendered none of his principles in accepting the nomination, I knew it would have to be his policy that the Democratic party would have to agree to, and not his agreeing to their policy, and so like the poor boy at the trough, I had nothing to say to the infernal cuss. You would 'at catch me opening my mouth then, I was too much afraid of getting my foot in it.

Bennett—Well, that is pretty bad. I know Price got the best of me. I ought to have kept out of his way.

But how is thunder did we Democrats manage to get the issues so dead against us.

Vance—Why, how is that?

Bennett—Well, Price goes on to say that we solidified the white vote in the west in favor of the Democratic party in the past, by holding up to the public indignation the revenue officers and got our representatives elected to congress on promises made the people that if the Democrats had a majority in congress we would repeal the odious revenue laws, or else lop off some of their most objectionable features. He says that you were one of those that did so, and that he helped you, but that when the Democrats got control of both houses of congress so far from repealing the law, or any of its objectionable features, that we Democrats passed a law allowing revenue officers to destroy any illicit distillery where the value of the property was less than five hundred dollars, thus allowing poor men to be crushed out without trial by judge or jury, that the Democratic congress appropriated one hundred thousand dollars a year, for three years, to pay spies and informers to probe around a man's barn and premises, and dog his footsteps to catch him dealing in a little contraband tobacco or whiskey, and that the same body passed a law allowing U. S. Deputy Marshals to arrest violators of the revenue law without any warrant whatever. Oh, I tell you Vance, he gave us this.

Vance—Well, you denied all of that of course?

Bennett—Well, no, that is just what bothered me. Price referred to the Congressional Record, date and page, and said if anybody denied it, or was doubtful about it, there was the book. Of course I could not deny it then.

Vance—Well, what did you do then.

Bennett—As you said just now, like the poor boy at the trough, I had nothing to say. But Price did give us thunder on the county government. Say Vance, don't you think we are getting the worst of that.

Vance—Not at all. Why, you see, (with a wink) our statement in the platform that we were not wedded to any particular form of county government, helps us like thunder. Out in the west where the Democrats are opposed to the present system we say we are opposed also, as up to the Bob does. Oh, I tell you Bob is sharp. In the east we tell the Democrats we are in favor of the present system. Ah, my boy, that is what you call picking blackberries on both sides of the fence. Do you see?

Say, Bennett, you fellows that are so big free trade speech, and none of these poor white trash understand anything about that, and they think I have made a tremendous hit. I tell you, my boy, it takes an old hand for a hard chase. That's me, Zeb.

Bennett—Well, I don't know. You better be careful how you fool around with that speech. Dan Russell made a speech in Wilmington the other night and charged that it was on account of your old Know-nothing proclivities that you were so much in favor of free trade.

Vance—The devil you say!

Bennett—Yes, sir. He said that protecting our manufactured goods, made them sell higher, of course, that caused workmen to get higher wages in this country than they could get in England, France or Germany, where only very poor wages were paid, and caused the immense number of German, Irish, French, English and Scotch to emigrate to this country where they could get better wages. These emigrants have built up this country and contributed in a great degree to its boundless enterprise and prosperity. Whereas as Russell said if free trade had been the law of the land goods manufactured in this country would have to be put on the market at the same price as foreign goods in which event, of course, American manufacturers could have paid no higher wages than foreign manufacturers, and then there would have been no incentive to emigration, there would have been nothing for emigrants to have come here for. Consequently, says Russell, the country would have lost their invaluable brains and muscle.

Vance—(whistling) Well, I declare. Bennett—Yes, and it is generally believed too, which all comes from Kingsbury describing you in the Star as the most many-sided man he ever knew. Of course everybody thinks he refers to the many sides you have been on in politics.

Vance—Confused Kingsbury, I wish he would drop his big words and write plain English. The truth is I have been looking around two or three political camps while the rascals held out, and the mischief of it is, I forgot to take the labels off my baggage, but I never imagined those fellows were going to find it out. Well, what else did Russell say?

Bennett—Why he says that unless they can have protection for rice and peanuts it will ruin the Cape Fear section of our state, and those interested cannot expect protection for those products unless protection is also given to the products and manufactured goods of other sections of our country. It will either be all protection or all free trade. He says that taking the duty off rice will lower the price seventy-five or eighty cents a bushel, and any farmer can better afford to pay a few cents more for a pair of trace chains which lasts for several years, if he can get one dollar and twenty five cents instead of forty to fifty cents a bushel for rice, and prices in the same proportion for peanuts, and as for spool cotton, why Russell showed that under free trade it costs a dollar a dozen but under protection it only costs fifty-five cents a dozen. Why you see, Costs in consequence of protection, which built up our manufactures of spool cotton so that he could not compete with them had to move a portion of his manufacturing to this country in order to avoid the duty, thus giving us for fifty-five cents what we had to pay one dollar for under free trade, besides aiding to build of the country and giving employment to a large number of our citizens. He says your joke about those who are not able to get along under free trade, ought to sell out to somebody who can, will not do. There would be no one to buy. Well you see it looks like those people in the Wilmington district must and will vote for Canada, who is in favor of protection of our products and industries, if they don't want to have their section and their property ruined by the foreign competition of rice and peanuts. I am just giving you these hints, Vance to show you that you are not treading any paths of roses, while I am catching thunder from Price on account of Democratic desertion of principle, county government and prohibition.

Long talking under and vociferous cries of "My God, Abernethy."

Vance—Oh, thunder, there is that infernal howl again; will I never hear the last of it? I say, Bennett, from the way things look you and I had better keep the woods and bushes, for the balance of this campaign and let Ransom go around with that gray-headed speech of his. You see it is four hours long and he can lengthen it out to six so that there is no time for anybody to reply to him. Besides the things he speaks about happened so long ago that few men living recollect anything about them.

Ransom—Look at me, I was an old as that?

Vance—I should think it was. Why the centennial commission made a request that if any of the Senators or Representatives had any old relics that they would like to put on exhibition, they would take pleasure in receiving them, and they some heard of Ransom's speech, but after an investigation, decided that it was too old to be ranked as one of the productions of this country, and suggested that it should be placed in the Egyptian department among the mummies; when placed there it made some of them thousand year fellows turn green with envy at its greater age. It ranks the obelisk in age and has not changed near as much. Ransom is preserving it with a good deal of care. Repeats it on every occasion to see if it all there.

Enter Ransom, Jarvis and Coke.

Vance—Say, Ransom, Bennett and I have concluded to let you do the big speaking and we will bushwhack.

Ransom—The devil you say? Why Vance, I thought it was understood between us that we should each aid the other to keep our seats as long as we wanted them. This isn't fair, I want your help.

Jarvis—Is that the arrangement? This is a nice little or fish? Where am I to come in? Probably Coke is in that combination too?

Coke—I can best answer that by telling a joke. You have heard about the fellow at sea who was leaning over the side of the vessel giving those unmistakable evidences of sea sickness, when a friend came and asked him: "What is the matter, are you sick?" When he replied, "Of course I am, do you think I am doing this for fun?" So do think, Governor, I am running this campaign for fun? No, sir, I learned long ago in my Sunday school class in Virginia, that "charity begins at home." Besides I don't think that it is by any means certain that our party will have the disposal of that position. I am a believer in the celebrated recipe how to cook a hare, which is "first catch the hare."

Jarvis—Not a bit of trouble about that, why look at the second district. The trading between Hays and O'Hara will give us several thousand votes, so granting that the balance of the state elects, the second district will elect our ticket. How is that for high?

The balance of the company smile gleefully.

Rap at the door, enter telegraph messenger, with telegram Jarvis opens and reads:

"Harris has withdrawn in the second district, leaving O'Hara the unquestioned nominee of the Republican party."

No chance for trading now. "Help me Cassius or I sink."

A. J. GALLOWAY.

Jarvis weeps. Vance, "My God, Abernethy."

Grand tableaux with Gen. Apathy in the foreground.

We know a workman in this city who has been compelled to remove two of his children from the Hemmings free school because of prejudices toward them. Is it because said workman is a Republican that such prejudices exist? If so, Messrs. Schoolcommittees, we should like to know it. We believe it is.

A Lie Made of the Whole Cloth. DIDN'T GO DOWN.

We understand that George T. Wassom, colored, Republican candidate for Solicitor of this district, addressed a large crowd at Jacksonville, Onslow county, last Tuesday and made a strong appeal to class prejudices among the white people but "spoiled the broth" when he declared that he was in favor of sending the law concerning the apprenticeship of minor children as to allow white children to be bound to negro masters. He said this was Republican doctrine. It was delightful to the faithful among the Democracy of Onslow, our informant states, to see how this assertion of the Republican candidate for Solicitor made the weak kneed brethren firm in the faith. It carried the Democratic stock up many points; indeed, it has assured the election of the entire Democratic local ticket and the full strength of the party for the general ticket.—Wilmington Star.

We take occasion to denounce the above as an infamous lie, made of the whole cloth. A campaign lie; told with the intention of injuring not only Mr. Wassom, but the Liberal, state, congressional and county ticket. It is well known that Mr. Swift Galloway and his friends have done everything in their power to keep Mr. Wassom in the field for the very purpose of making campaign thunder for their side, so they could draw the color line. They are constantly sending men to him, telling him that he can be elected. Why is this? It can be easily answered; they know if Mr. Wassom should withdraw and a white man, a Liberal was to run, Mr. Galloway, with all of his donkey braying, would be defeated. They know that Mr. Galloway's of public investigation. That accounts for their anxiety to keep Mr. Wassom in the field, so they can cry "negro" on him. Notwithstanding Mr. Wassom's color we know and so does all, that he never was guilty of the charge above, and we call the lie to the cross; but the intent of the persons who gave it to the Star is too plain to deceive any one. We have received information from all the places that Mr. Wassom has spoken and all state that he is making Liberal and able speeches. But the intent is plainly shown when he says "It was delightful to the faithful among the Democrats of Onslow, to see how this assertion of the Republican candidate for Solicitor made the weak-kneed brethren firm in the faith."

The intention of such infamous lies as the above is made sufficiently plain for those who run to read.

But we tell our friends to look out for lies from now on, the order has gone forth from headquarters to the Democratic press and speakers to lie from now until the 7th of November.

We call upon the honest, conservative element of the Democratic party to join in the condemnation of such intemperate lies. We never can have a Democratic Republican form of government as long as many of the good men will allow themselves to be bull-dozed and whipped into voting for men who have no resort to lying to beat their opponents.

Captain Swift Galloway was in the city on Friday, blowing about haying a "negro" competitor, and demanding that white men should turn out and vote or he would be beat. A gentleman in Goldsboro informed us that he heard Capt. Galloway say, six weeks ago that he would not have Mr. Wassom to withdraw for $500. Does Capt. G. deny it. If he does we can prove it. He and his friends have been exceedingly anxious for Col. Wassom to remain in the field, for the very purpose of doing what they are now at, drawing the color line. Mr. Wassom is a Republican, and we know he never made use of the language attributed to him, by Captain Galloway, in this city, and he knew that the information he gave to the Star and Review was not true.

Mr. Galloway sent his friends to Mr. Wassom and begged him to run, and he (Galloway) goes around denouncing the negro and saying white men must turn out and vote or he would be beat. What does white men think of such conduct.

Colored men, when those white men come around after your votes ask them why it is they are drawing the color line in their papers and in their speeches.

What a Pity.

Parson Kingsbury of the Star, in last Sunday's issue, as usual, bids good bye with much feeling and pathos to two more of his friends who had joined the liberal movement, viz: Hugh F. Murray, Esq., of Wilson, and Willis Jenkins, Esq., of Granville. If the Parson had been for the last three months preparing for a missionary trip to the Hottentots, expecting to stay the balance of his life he could not have had a more doleful or unanimous time bidding good bye than he has had separating from the many friends of his who have rejoined the Liberal movement. In fact we are getting to think more of him since we have found out the number of good, sensible men he has been associating with.

Parson Kingsbury may well wait to keep his courage up when the issues of the Liberal movement are so strong as to commend themselves to the number of good men who are daily espousing the movement of progress, toleration and liberalism in our good old state. When such men as Hugh F. Murray and Willis Jenkins, men whom their bitterest enemies have taught to say against, and the hundreds of other good men who have joined this movement openly and manfully come to the rescue of the glorious institutions of our state, which this old bourbon oligarchy are rapidly sinking into a family affair for the benefit of Col. Handed Negroes and his kin, then Kingsbury may well begin to murmur for the downfall of the bourbon Democracy.

Liberal and Republican Candidates for the General Assembly.

SENATE

Carteret, Jones and Onslow—Duplin and Wayne—J. C. McMillan New Hanover and Pender—Henry E. Scott.

Brunswick and Bacon—R. H. Lyon, Sampson—John Edwards.

Columbus and Robeson—Shadrach Wooten.

Cumberland and Harnett—William B. Surles.

Moore and Randolph—Sion H. Buchanan.

Onslow—Thomas E. Gilman.

Pender—R. Beverly Fraizer.

Sampson—Henry C. Monk, John R. Smith.

Those who favor anti-prohibition, local self government and the education of the people of the state, a free vote and a fair count, and good, honest government should be sure to vote for the above candidates.

Coke, chairman Democratic state committee to Richardson, chairman district committee—W. J. Green was a member of the 2d congressional committee when he was nominated for congress in the 3d district. This is bad, very bad. For God's sake get him to withdraw.

W. J. Green never voted in this district. So says the poll books of Cumberland county.

Wharton J. Green was a member of the 2d congressional Democratic committee when he was nominated in the 3d district for congress.

Wharton J. Green was not a bona-fide resident of this district when he was nominated.

The Star has been supported by the colored men here for years, and yet it is doing all in its power to draw the color line in the state. Colored men should take notice of this treatment.

Capt. Hugh Waddell.

This above gentleman is well known in this city and state, he is the brother of Col. Alfred M. Waddell. We take pleasure in informing our friends that Capt. Hugh Waddell is in full accord with the Liberal movement in this state and desires to see the full ticket elected.

Captain Hugh Waddell, one of North Carolina's most distinguished men, is out for the Liberal movement in the north. People of the Cape Fear section can afford to follow where such men as Hugh Waddell leads.

Stand to your color working men and vote out of existence Col. Handed-negro and his distinguished (?) family.

Remember this is a campaign against bourgeois intolerance, prescription and insolence, in favor of the rights of free Americans.

Vance to Coke—Issue order No. 8 to draw the color line or we are lost. Nothing in it I know, but it must be tried, or we are gone sure.

Let every agriculturist who raises peanuts, rice and tobacco vote the Liberal ticket. For he cannot raise them under Democratic high tariff.

Old Whigs, take notice! Wharton J. Green, said at Smithville, that "Protection was robbery." Old Whigs, were you old robbers? Col. Green says so.

Let every mechanic who wants to retain his wages at a living figure, and not be brought into competition with rat-eating Chinamen or European pauper labor, vote the Liberal ticket.

Let every patriot who desires to see the state put in accord with the government, race prejudice laid aside and an era of good feeling and prosperity inaugurated, vote the Liberal ticket.

Voters put your own ballot in the box. No poll holder has a right to touch them. Vote a folded ticket if you like. That is why you vote by ballot, that is the freedom and purity of the ballot.

Let every farmer in the state who wants to see his lands and products advance in value, who wants to see his neighborhood thick with cultivated farms, settled by hard-working, intelligent, men, vote the Liberal ticket.

We are requested to call the attention of the Republicans of Moore county to the fact that they are all required to register before election day or they will not be allowed to vote. A new registration is required.

Remember, every voter has a right to vote a folded ticket, and a poll holder has a right to open a voters ticket. The poll holder has no right to take any voter's ticket out of his hand. A voter puts his own ballot in the box.

Let every merchant who desires to see Wilmington and the entire state fill up with a good class of northern men, bringing their money and brains, vote the Liberal ticket, for they will not come as long as bourgeois rule and intolerance prevails.

"I abhor the idea of protection," said Col. Green, Democratic candidate for Congress in this district, at Smithville. What say you, rice and peanut growers of the Cape Fear district? What say you men who are trying to build up the languishing industries of the south.

Now then: The Liberal and Republican demand an honest registration, a free vote and an honest count. No more—no less. Any man who prevents either of these will be arrested, indicted and tried; and if convicted will undoubtedly be sent to the penitentiary. The whole power of the United States will be invoked for this purpose.

Ask the bourgeois if there was anything in the prohibition bill the prevented one of the "uneducated blacks" from voting and cajoling with the colored man about the election. Tell them that there is everything in the prohibition question, the county government aristocracy and the bourgeois intolerance and supercilious contempt of the "poor white trash" that makes it the duty of the poor white man to vote with the colored man.

Teachings, N. C.

On Saturday the 14th inst. we had the pleasure of visiting Teachings, N. C., a thriving little manufacturing village on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, about thirty-two miles from this city. We were much surprised and gratified at the many signs of prosperity. Capt. J. C. McMillan has a syrup mill running by steam, which will turn out about 16,000 gallons of syrup this season. This is a new industry for this part of the state, and it bids fair to be one of the most successful. Capt. McMillan has also a saw and grist mill, and he runs a large farm.

Mr. Aug. H. Morris is merchandising and doing a very profitable business, purchasing large quantities of roots, herbs and dog-tongue, he ships it north and makes a fine profit. Mr. Morris has lately invented a medicine which is said by the best people of Duplin county to be a sure cure for cholera. We talked with a great many people and found that they were enthusiastic over the discovery. We heard a gentleman of large means and a farmer, say that it would pay for the farmers to buy this medicine and administer it to their hogs whether they have the cholera or not, that it would cause the hogs to fatten much quicker, and the meat would be healthier and better. Mr. Morris has agents in all parts of the state, and will probably realize a large fortune from this enterprise. He informs us that he has sold up to this time 1,000 packages.

There were many other enterprises in operation which we have not the time or space to speak of at present, but we cannot stop without saying that the people of Duplin are more prosperous than they have ever been before, and with such men as the McMillans the county is bound to become one of the first in the state.

The Working Man's Opportunity.

The coming election will be the first opportunity the working men have had in North Carolina to vote for men who will represent them.

The Liberal candidates have not been selected from any class, and before receiving the party nominations they gave a pledge that they would stand up for the rights of the great industrial class of our people. They are men who favor the right of local self-government, men who are opposed to all class distinction, men who think a good blacksmith the equal of a good lawyer, men who want the working people educated by the country, men who believe the state in line with the government, so that North Carolina shall have her full share of the government appropriations for her public improvements, men who favor a tariff that will allow us to raise pea-nuts and rice, and protect American labor from the pauper competition of Europe. They are live, active men of the times who live in the present and not in the dead past.

We urge our Democratic friends not to lose sight for one moment of the Legislature. As far as North Carolina is concerned you had better lose every Representative and the Judges besides that to lose the Legislature. The bads are threatening to overthrow our present system of county government and play havoc with our institutions generally if they get into power once more. Be sure to disappoint them. To do this go to work in earnest, as if your house was on fire, and then vote. Now what do you say?—Star.

The above from the Star of the 18th inst., shows as plainly as language can convey, the fact that the bourgeois in this campaign are willing to sacrifice everything to retain their power in the counties. They will know that so long as they retain in their hands the machinery of county government that they hold the most important part of the election machinery, viz the appointment of registrars, poll holders, &c., in fact they control the vote, for as is evidenced in the present campaign the respective board of county commissioners have, in the selection and appointment of Republican poll holders, been careful to select those least fitted intellectually to perform the duties of that office. So the Star tells them to work as if their house was on fire.

From the signs of the times we are inclined to think they will have some difficulty in extinguishing the Liberal fire which is being spread by Price, Devaux and others.

Bladen County.

The Liberal and Republican held their convention at Elizabethtown, Bladen county, on Tuesday last and nominated a full ticket, one of the best ever submitted to the good people of that county. It will be elected by 750 majority. The nomination of Hon. E. H. Lyon was unanimously endorsed. John Nevill was nominated for the House.

E. L. McMillan, Clerk Superior Court; William J. Sutton, for Sheriff; K. K. Russell, for Treasurer.

W. T. Priddy, for Register of Deeds. Every man on the ticket is strong in the hearts of the people and every Republican and Liberal in that county will make in giving the hearty and disinterested support. Bladen county has the best set of Republicans in the state and they know just how to win a victory.

Major Charles Price's Speech—A Grand Liberal Demonstration.

According to appointment Major Price addressed the Liberals from the stand at the old market house on Monday night last.

Long before the hour for his appearance had arrived the crowd began to gather; along the store doors might have been seen the faces of many Democratic gentlemen, eagerly listening to every word that fell from the speaker's tongue—while to the right, to the left, behind and before, surged the largest crowd that has turned out to hear a political speech during the present canvass, there being not less than 1500 to 1800 present, and in face of the fact that the Democrats had flooded the city with handbills announcing a meeting with "eminent speakers" in the first ward, which had confused many persons as to which place Major Price was going to speak, thereby losing him many auditors.

The Major was introduced by Hon. D. L. Russell, who took occasion to give his views, very forcibly touching Democratic action on the tariff question. He showed conclusively that under Democratic tariff doctrine we could not raise rice and peanuts unless we could come down to an African and Chinese basis of living. The Judge gave the Democrats some strong home thrusts at their want of national feeling and utter disregard of the interests of the American laboring classes.

Major Price then addressed the crowd in a speech of two hours, and although laboring under a severe throat affection brought on by his incessant and arduous work of the past month or two, he presented his subject in such a powerful and convincing manner as to elicit the applause of both Democrats and Liberals. It was so far removed from the orthodox "political effort" that many persons characterized it as a political funeral sermon of the bourgeois party. Echoing all invective, calmly, dispassionately and logically handling his subject, imputing bad motives to none, giving credit whenever due, regardless of party lines, he gave those who heard him an address that will afford food for reflection during the present canvass, and here as he has all over the state added many votes to the cause he so ably and eminently represents. It was an appeal to the better nature of his hearers that passion and prejudice be laid aside, that justice and humanity assume sway, and that all our people, without reference to class or color, unite in our grand effort to put our old state in advance on the market line of prosperity.

The Republican and Liberal county executive committees were on the stand with two Vice-Presidents from each ward, and two secretaries, selected from each party equally, and much credit is due, particularly to Sheriff Manning for the successful manner in which all the detail were managed.

Merrited Complimented.

We publish below a letter from the Attorney General of the United States to W. S. O'B. Robinson, our United States District Attorney, for the purpose of showing our Democratic friends in what manner the District Attorney is treated by his superiors for the able manner in which he prosecuted the parties who committed the frauds in the election in Halifax county in 1880, and to say we have it from the Attorney General and also from the District Attorney, that every man who commits fraud in any manner on the elections this year will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 17, '82.

SIR:—Your letter of the 15th of June has just been handed to me. You have, indeed done your duty, and done it in a way that I wish had been done elsewhere. The fine inflicted is one that should have been inflicted, though as well as fine, if others are not admonished by the punishment measured out to these men. I like the fine, its amount looks as if the Court was in earnest and the public will so understand it. The nominal fines that have been inflicted in other districts look like a mockery of justice and, what is worse, look like cowardice in the administration of justice, a fear of a public sentiment that partakes of the character of treason by fraudulent means. I am pleased, very much pleased and am all the more gratified with the exercise of my discretion and experience in selecting you to fill the place you so creditably hold. Keep on in this career and you will fill the measure of your public duty and thus earn the reward that awaits just men who will inevitably confer upon you.

I am, with great respect, your obedient servant,
BENJAMIN HARRIS BROWDER.

W. S. O'B. ROBINSON, Esq.

District Attorney of the U. S. for the Eastern District of North Carolina, Raleigh, N. C.

Put your own ballot in the box Fold it if you like. Any poll holder who insists on taking it out of your hands and opening it, take his name together with two or three of the names of the hypocrites and report his name to the proper authorities.

A MAGNIFICENT LIE.

We quote the following as a sample of campaign lies, it stands forth like a mountain among the foot-hills of Democratic campaign falsehoods. It is a whopper, a stunner, a rip-rattler.

The Republican State Executive Committee will be as much surprised as any one else to know that they had been organized as a national bank.

The truth is that there has been less money spent by the Republicans in this campaign than in any previous contests. They did not need to do so, the white working people were so completely disgusted with Democratic rule that they needed no pecuniary or other inducement to vote against them.

Does the Liberal dog wag the Republican tail? There are about five hundred Liberals in the state, of whom about one hundred and fifty are now running for office. To them is attached the body of the Republican party, just as a tail is attached to the kite. The use of the tail is to make the kite rise to the wind, and so the five hundred Liberals use the 110,000 Republicans to lift them up to high seats in the synagogues. The Liberal leaders also expected to raise the wind out of Dr. Mot's camp chest, and without doubt they have done so. But where are there any Republicans who have received money from Dr. Mot's committee? The only persons who have fingered any Republican money have been ignored; there was no spare cash for them, but all the favors were given to the few Liberals who fattened at the expense of the Republican party. And now the money chest is exhausted. Dr. Mot, it is said, got twelve thousand dollars from Washington, and has spent it all. It was lavished on the Liberals. The Republicans didn't manage to get even a sight at it. There were no provisions in that bill for them. The new Liberals were the favorites. But all that is in the past. The money is spent gone where the woodbine twined, and there is no more to come. The national committee at Washington have closed up their rooms. Jay Hubbell has gone out west to hide his diminished head, and the assessment business has stopped from the orthodox "political effort" that many persons characterized it as a political funeral sermon of the bourgeois party. Echoing all invective, calmly, dispassionately and logically handling his subject, imputing bad motives to none, giving credit whenever due, regardless of party lines, he gave those who heard him an address that will afford food for reflection during the present canvass, and here as he has all over the state added many votes to the cause he so ably and eminently represents. It was an appeal to the better nature of his hearers that passion and prejudice be laid aside, that justice and humanity assume sway, and that all our people, without reference to class or color, unite in our grand effort to put our old state in advance on the market line of prosperity.

Republican County Convention in Duplin.

KENANVILLE, Sept. 30, 1882.

The Republicans of Duplin county met in convention at Kenanville.

The convention was called to order by A. J. Stanford, chairman county executive committee, and A. R. Middleton, secretary county executive committee, was requested to act as secretary.

After the usual prayer, the following gentlemen were appointed a committee on credentials: H. Williams, F. Hill, D. Williams, J. M. Powers, A. McCullough, B. Branch, E. Faison, S. Corrier, T. D. Hill, A. H. Williams, E. Farrier, M. R. Davis, J. Davis, Lewis Bryan, Jr.

During the absence of that committee, Mr. M. W. H. Branch, of New Hanover, being present, was called on and made a sterling speech.

Then the committee came forward and reported that they had found all the voting precincts and townships duly represented.

On motion of A. E. Middleton, that there be a committee appointed on permanent organization, the following gentlemen were appointed: D. A. Williams, Rufus Branch, J. M. Powers, G. Farrier, Cato Grady; which said committee, after a short session, made the following report for permanent organization: chairman, A. E. Middleton; secretary, A. McCullough, which report was unanimously adopted.

Mr. A. E. Middleton was then introduced by Mr. A. J. Stanford. Mr. Middleton came forward and in a short speech returned thanks to the convention for the honor it had conferred upon him, and then said that on yesterday the Liberals of this county had nominated a county ticket that he hoped this convention would endorse and stand by till sunset on the 7th day of November. He then told how the Democrats cheated and defrauded Canaday and the state ticket in 1880, by pretending to the ignorant colored people who they wanted to vote for. That was the way they got Shackelford and Jarvis through.

On motion of A. McCullough, the Liberal ticket was endorsed. The following is the ticket:

For House of Representatives, Jas D. Canavanagh.

Clerk Superior Court, Peter Corneley.

Treasurer, John W. Grooms.

Surveyor, Playvis Maxvill.

No nomination for Register of Deeds, Corrier and the Senate.

On motion, A. R. Middleton, Irvin Beaman, and A. J. Stanford were appointed a committee to meet the Liberal committee on the 7th of October, to fill the remainder of the ticket.

The Hon. William P. Canaday, candidate for Congress for the 3d district, was called for and gave as a two hour speech. Then Col. George T. Wason was called on and made a rousing speech.

A. R. MIDDLETON, Ch'mn. A. McCULLOUGH, Sec'y.

Let every working man who has the future of his children at heart, and wants to see his men have equal chances in the battle of life with other boys, vote the Liberal ticket.

Pursuant to adjournment on the 7th day of October, 1882, the Liberal executive committee of Duplin county met in convention at Kenanville on the 14th day of October, 1882, for the purpose of completing the nominations for the Liberal ticket.

After speeches from several of our zealous friends, the following nomination for coroner was made, William Reason Best. The office of Register of Deeds was left vacant, and the following preamble and resolutions passed:

WHEREAS, Henry C. Moore, the present incumbent, of the office of register of deed, having faithfully, honestly and fairly performed his duty as register.

AND WHEREAS, We believe him to be a friend to freedom and honest principles, and likewise a christian gentleman.

Resolved, 1st, That we, the Liberals of Duplin county, do recommend him to the qualified voters of Duplin county as a most fit person for the office of register of deeds and promise him our undivided support at the polls.

2d, That whereas Benjamin C. Bowden, the present incumbent of the office of county Treasurer, is a good and pure man, a friend to the poor and afflicted, also an efficient officer, and we having the consent of Mr. John W. Graham to withdraw his name as a candidate for the office of county treasurer, we do recommend Mr. Benjamin C. Bowden's selection to the office of county treasurer; and believing him to be a friend to freedom and honest principles, we do promise him our support at the polls on the 7th day of November.

3d, That whereas the Liberal movement in Duplin county has thus far surpassed our most sanguine expectations, that we tender our thanks to our gallant standard bearers, and to all true lovers of freedom who have dared to do right by coming out on our side and raising their voice in behalf of liberty and honest government. And we do promise the Liberals of Duplin county that on the 7th day of November, 1882, we will throw off the shackles of slavery and proclaim a general emancipation for the would be free white men of North Carolina, from bourgeois and bourgeois rule.

4th, That we express our thanks to the Republican party of Duplin county for the action they have taken in endorsing our ticket, as put out by us; and whereas we are working for the same common liberty, we promise to stand shoulder to shoulder, and never give back until the enemy is driven beyond dispute.

5th, That we enter our protest against the action of Prof. Frank Grady in calling a mixed normal school in the county of Duplin, where our lady and gentlemen teachers, of both races, are made to sit in the same class and allowed to be corrected by the opposite sex of each race. And we further protest against his conveying the two races in the same class in his examination school for the purpose of grading certificates to the teachers of the county to teach free schools. We also express our regrets that the magistrates of the county should allow such humiliating conduct on the part of the free school superintendent, and promise them after the 7th of November next to elect such men to the offices of justices of the peace and county commissioners as will prevent the intermingling of the two races in our common schools.

6th, That as certain candidates on the bourgeois ticket and some of their warm supporters in Duplin county are in the habit of calling us ill names, such as radicals, and negroes galvanized, simply because we claim our right to select our own riders and vote for the candidates of our choice, that we hereby enter our protest against such treatment and ask them to at once cease using such harsh language in connection with our names, or we will publish their names in such connection as to show to the world who are the promoters of negroism in Duplin county, among the females.

7th, That we send greeting to our white brothers of the west, that the day is dawning, and within another moon the chimera of liberty will be ringing in the old North State, and the offices now occupied by our present bourgeois oppressors will know them no more forever.

8th, That whereas the harvest is ripe for a change in officers and politics, that we ask our gallant standard bearer, candidate for congress, the Hon. W. P. Canaday, to speak during the present campaign at several places in our county, and as we think our cause beyond contradiction, we hereby tender an invitation to Colonel Wharton J. Green to come and discuss the political questions of the day with him, as we are willing to have with the people to make their choice. Truth craves to the ground will also again.

9th, That we also extend an invitation to the Hon. Oliver H. Doohery, candidate for congressman at large, to make a speech before the close of the present campaign.

10th, That we use every effort in our power to elect our ticket, as now constituted and thereby give the people of Duplin county a new era in freedom.

CHARLES H. BROWDER, Ch'mn. HENRY A. WILLIAMS, Sec'y.

We the undersigned committee of three appointed by the Republican convention, assembled at Kenanville on the 30th of September, to endorse the nominations made by the Liberal executive committee of Duplin county, do endorse the Liberal ticket as now constituted, for ourselves and for the Republican party of Duplin county, and promise to support the nominees at the polls on the 7th of November next.

A. J. STANFORD,
Chairman Rep. Ex. Com.

A. R. MIDDLETON,
Secretary Rep. Ex. Com.

IRVIN BEAMAN,
Member Rep. Ex. Com.

KENANVILLE, N. C., Oct. 10, '82.

OHAS. H. BROWN,
Chairman Liberal Ex. Com.

DEAR SIR:—A copy of your resolution recommending me to the qualified voters of Duplin county, and promising me the support of the Liberals and Republicans of Duplin county in my re-election to the office of register of deeds has been received. I thank you and your friends for your kind feeling toward me, and promise you if re-elected to that office I will endeavor to do my duty as faithfully in the future as in the past.

Respectfully,
HENRY C. MOORE.

The Bourbons Scare-Crow.

The big scare-crow the bourgeois hold up constantly before the people is negro supremacy. In this state we have 198,000 whites and 106,000 negroes, which leaves 84,000 white majority. Does this look like negro supremacy? We have in this state 96 counties. Of this number eleven counties have negro majorities, 85 are governed by white majorities. Does any reasonable man think there is any danger in the state being handed over to the negroes? These figures are correct, and a moment's reflection will show you that these bourgeois bosses are not actuated by the love of the great old state as they are to retain the fat offices they now hold. This negro supremacy business is being circulated to drive the timid into bourgeois ranks. They want your votes and after they are again reinstated then you will never hear of negro supremacy until they want office again.

Thomas Jefferson, the father of the Democratic party, says: "I know of no safe deposit of the ultimate powers of society but the people themselves; and if we think them not enlightened enough to exercise their control with a wholesome discretion, the remedy is, not take it from them, but to inform their discretion by education." This is pure unadulterated Democracy, and shows that Democracy consists in giving the people more privileges not in robbing them of anything that is conducive to their pleasure and happiness. Let the people say who shall manage their county matters, and all will be well. Rob them of these rights and you inaugurate a system of tyranny that will, in the near future, clothe bourgeoisism in satin and fine linen, and place the yoke upon the necks of the good people of the country. When we have an opportunity to rebuke this species of tyranny let us do it in thunder tones. As an evidence that the bourgeois are in earnest, look about you and you will see all the talented men command stamping every corner of the state, and every one of them insisting that the people are not qualified to elect their own magistrates, but this must be left to the Legislature. Why are they so much concerned about your little township affairs? Think of this, and answer for yourselves. While you think, be careful how you determine matters. This privilege once gone you will never live to see the day when you will have about you officers of your own choice, but officers appointed to levy your taxes, build your bridges and roads by a body of men who know nothing of the qualifications of those appointed.

This is no small matter, and we ask our friends to consider this matter well before casting the ballot that may rivet for time the chains that is to bind our now free people.—Concord Sun.

Bally! Bally! Bally!!!

Mr. EASTON:—Every friend in good government, white or black, in this campaign should do his whole duty. By working in harmony we can and will elect Hon. William P. Canaday, our tried and faithful friend, to congress. The whole people will be much benefited. We should send him to congress that the whole people might receive some consideration at the congress of the nation. (We can, I think, elect every candidate on the Republican ticket.

I need say to my people in this congressional district, rally, and remember that you must register again again before you can vote.

Let every man register and vote.

Yours for Union.

R. H. GREEN.

Do the bourgeois expect to win in this campaign by lying? The Statewide Landmark's "reliable" news from Wilkes, for instance, is to the effect that the Robbins will get all the Democratic votes and Cook pretty much all the Republican votes in that county. Everybody in Wilkes knows this stuff to be false. Further, Robbins is to get a plurality in Wilkes, quite likely a majority! Also, that deputy sheriff Landford has returned to the Democratic fold, &c. Now Landford was in attendance, on Saturday, upon the Liberal convention at Taylorville, and was nominated for the Senate. And so they go. Cook will get no votes of any consequence in Wilkes. Everybody living in that county will, in serious conversation, admit this. It is evident that all this kind of talk is intended to induce Liberals to believe that there is no Liberal feeling outside of their own community. Let the people remember that this is a free campaign; that there are certain things to be done which the Liberal and Republican parties favor and which the bourgeois party oppose. Then let every man vote with one side or the other, according to what he wants done. If he desires to elect his county commissioners and magistrates and school committees, he will vote with the Liberal and Republican parties; if he wants the Legislature to appoint these officers, independent of the needs and desires of the people, he will vote with the bourgeois party. That is all. Choose your between them.

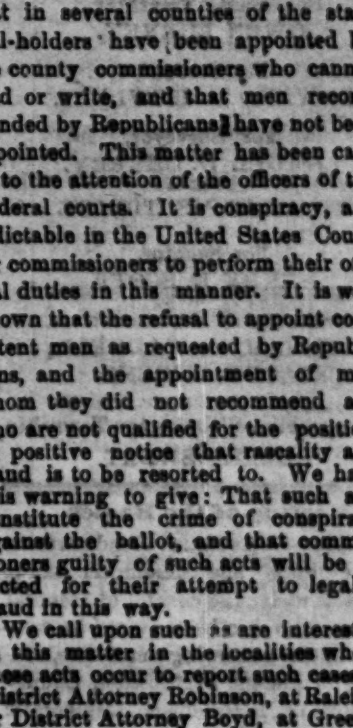

Conspiracy to Defraud.

It has been called to our attention, that in several counties of the state poll-holders have been appointed by the county commissioners who cannot read or write, and that men recommended by Republicans have not been appointed. This matter has been called to the attention of the officers of the Federal courts. It is conspiracy, and indictable in the United States Court, for commissioners to perform their official duties in this manner. It is well known that the refusal to appoint competent men as requested by Republicans, and the appointment of men whom they did not recommend and who are not qualified for the position, is positive notice that racially and fraud is to be resorted to. We have this warning to give: That such acts constitute the crime of conspiracy against the ballot, and that commissioners guilty of such acts will be indicted for their attempt to legalize fraud in this way.

We call upon such as are interested in this matter in the localities where these acts occur to report such cases to District Attorney Robinson, at Raleigh or District Attorney Boyd, at Greensboro.

All persons who have been appointed poll-holders and who are not qualified for the position, should refuse to act, and capable men recommended to the commissioners. This will deprive the commissioners of the plan, that they were not aware of the disqualifications of the men appointed.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE.

THE LEADING SCIENTISTS OF TO DAY agree that most diseases are caused by disordered kidneys or liver. If, therefore, the kidneys and liver are kept in perfect order, perfect health will be the result. This truth has only been known a short time and for years people suffered great agony without being able to find relief. The discovery of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is a new era in the treatment of these troubles. Made from a simple tropical fruit of rare value, it contains just the elements necessary to nourish and invigorate both of these great organs, and any reader who tries them will find it a POSITIVE remedy for all the diseases that come from the liver part of the body—see Terrible Liver Troubles—Jaundice—Biliousness—Gravel—Pain—Aching—Headache—Fever, and all diseases of the kidneys, liver and urinary organs.
